Location

Spalding is a historic market town in Lincolnshire, best known for its rich agricultural heritage and long standing connection to the flower industry. Once regarded as the heart of the UK's bulb-growing trade, the town was famous for its annual Spalding Flower Parade, a spectacular event celebrating the region's tulip-growing history. After a hiatus, the parade made a highly anticipated return, bringing vibrant floral displays, community spirit, and visitors from across the country to enjoy this cherished tradition and will now hopefully be a regular thing for the town,

Beyond its historical significance, Spalding offers excellent schooling with its many Primary Schools including Ayscoughfee Hall Independent Preparatory School, additionally Grammar Schooling is provided by the high performing Girls Spalding High School and the Boys Spalding Grammar School, all of which are a few minutes walk from Langtoft House.

Spalding offers a blend of history and cultural heritage with modern facilities. Traditional attractions such as Ayscoughfee Hall with its lovely gardens and newly re-furbished tennis courts sits comfortably with the more modern additions such as the South Holland Centre that showcases live shows and cinema facilities, the Water Taxis to Springfields Shopping Centre. In addition, Spalding offers access to fast rail services to London, with the train station and all the amenities being a short walk from Cowbit Road.

These facilities are to be further enhanced by the addition of a state of the art sports and leisure complex which will be developed over the next two years offering top tier facilities for fitness, social activities, and community events.

This exciting addition will enhance the town's amenities, making it even more appealing for families and professionals seeking a well-balanced lifestyle. Spalding offers a unique and thriving environment—perfect for those looking to enjoy the charm of a market town with the benefits of contemporary living.
